

BRITISH ASSOCIATION OF ART THERAPISTS

NOTE WRITING, THE ARTS AND THE LAW

Convenor: Neil Springham

Venue: BAAT, 24 - 27 White Lion Street, London N1 9PD

Date: Friday, 21st May 2010 – 10.00am – 4.00pm

Our clinical notes are our best protection in law because we are accountable for our actions as professionals for the rest of our lives.

To be effective though, our notes need to address a specific set of criteria and art therapists will need to be aware of these. There are also many questions about legal issues regarding images and audio-visual recordings of arts therapies sessions such as ownership, keeping archives, and use in legal procedures.

This course will outline how notes can be written to explicitly address these questions and it will also aim to clarify the relationship between images and the law. It will be practical and will be immediately applicable.

Please reserve a place for me on this course:
